This project was developed to highlight how entities under Dubai Media Incorporated (DMI) are seamlessly integrated into the daily lives of Arabic-speaking communities in the UAE. The concept focused on portraying authentic, everyday moments where DMI platforms naturally connect with people across different settings and routines.

Upon being awarded the project, SACS Creative Media executed the concept exactly in line with DMI's creative brief and communication objectives, ensuring consistency with the intended narrative, tone, and cultural context. The project required a strong understanding of public storytelling, realism, and audience relatability.

The production was led by Mr. Sachu Thulaseedharan, Creative Director, SACS Creative Media, and delivered in collaboration with a team of experienced creative professionals. Filming was carried out across multiple real-life locations, including Dubai Metro, RTA roads, residential villas, and other public environments, to authentically reflect everyday interactions.

The project was successfully delivered to specification and marked a significant milestone for SACS Creative Media, reinforcing our capability to handle direct government media projects, multi-location shoots, and narrative-driven visual storytelling with precision and reliability.
